MARRIAGES.

—Judge and Mrs. James F. Askew, of Georgetown, announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne Darnaby, to Mr. James Leslie Carrick, of Georgetown. The marriage will be celebrated on the 24th of January at high noon at Daisyfield, their country home. Miss Askew is one of the prettiest and most popular young society girls in the State and has often visited in Paris, where she is much admired. Mr. Carrick is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Carrick. He is a prominent horseman and is very popular socially.

—A special from Cincinnati in Sunday's Courier-Journal says: "For several days this week Cincinnati was the refuge of Miss Irene Royse, aged seventeen, of Carlisle Ky., who had run away from home in order to marry Arthur Franklin Gorman, manager of the Empire Theatre in Jacksonville, Fla. Miss Royse's parents opposed the match and her brother followed her to Cincinnati to prevent the marriage. She eluded him and went to Lima. Her affianced arrived in Lima Friday and the two were married at once. Later in the day the Lima police received a message from Miss Royse's brother, urging that they stop the marriage, but the message was received too late."

While Rear Admiral Evans' squadron was leaving New York harbor, proceeding to sea, the battleships Kentucky and Kearsarge collided and ran aground. The Kearsarge was able to put to sea, but the Kentucky was ordered back.

Will Make Her Home in Feud Capital.

Since a restoration of peace has been promised in Breathitt and the feud leaders have resolved to "bury the hatchet" of feudist strife, Mrs. Ambrelia Marcum, widow of the late James B. Marcum, who was shot and killed in the front door of the Jackson court house, has gone back to Jackson to live and will now make her home permanent in the feud capital. Following the assassination of her husband, Mrs. Marcum went to Winchester with her children, where she brought the famous damage suit for $100,000 against Judge James Hargis, Senator Alex. Hargis, Sheriff Ed. Calahan and Attorney B. F. French. Judgment for $8,000 was rendered against Judge Hargis and Sheriff Calahan, which was appealed from, but later settled in full.

Arising out of the trial of this case came the contempt cases before Judge Benton, which resulted in a conviction of Felix Feltner and B. F. French. On trial for the same offense Judge Hargis was acquitted. The Feltner and French cases are still pending in the Court of Appeals.

Mrs. Marcum moved to Jackson during last week.

Miss Gould Declines to Aid Lexington Hospital.

George S. Weeks, financial agent of the Good Samaritan Hospital, of Lexington, who has for the past year been soliciting contributions for a new building in which to establish the hospital, recently wrote a letter to Miss Helen Gould in behalf of his cause. He has received in return a letter from Miss Gould in which she expresses her regret at being unable to aid in building the hospital because of the numerous demands upon her purse for charity, and including a list of the requests made to her for aid during one week. The list represents 1,303 petitioners, who ask for an aggregate of over a million and a half dollars. Miss Gould's letter is as follows:

"Miss Gould does not feel that she can respond to your request. Not, she hopes you will believe, from any lack of sympathy or interest in the matter you present, but because numerous and exacting demands, together with the countless communications she has received, make it in this instance impossible."
